ITEMS DEBATED*Omnibus regulation

The presidency updated ministers on the state of play of a legislative proposal simplifying the rules governing the European structural and investment funds.

Work on the cohesion part of the so-called omnibus legislative proposal has been concluded at technical level in the Council. In general, member states support the adjustments proposed by the Commission to make the life of both managing authorities and beneficiaries easier. Once technical work on the other parts of the omnibus legislative proposal has been finalised, the Council's Permanent Representatives Committee will be invited to provide the presidency with a negotiating mandate for the discussions with the European Parliament.

The presidency also informed ministers on the agreement reached within the Council on 29 March 2017 to enhance EU support to member states affected by natural disasters.

(www.consilium.europa.eu/en/press/press-releases/2017/03/29-natural-disasters)

Bringing cohesion policy closer to the citizens

The Council exchanged views on how the results of cohesion policy can be made more visible to the citizens and how the cohesion policy can bridge the gap between the EU and its citizens. Ministers expressed the view that cohesion policy, if well communicated, has the potential to convince European citizens of the advantages of a common and solidary EU policy for them. They welcomed the Commission's ideas on how to better communicate cohesion policy and looked forward to the Commission's communication action plan. Ministers also stressed that the specific characteristics of each member state need to be taken into account in the regional and national communication strategies.

The Council also adopted the following conclusions on making cohesion policy more effective, relevant and visible to the citizens:

"THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION:

- (1) RECALLS its conclusions of 16 November 2016 on results and new elements of Cohesion Policy and the European Structural and Investment Funds<sup>1</sup>;

- (2) RECALLS that, pursuant to Article 174 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU), in order to promote its overall harmonious development, the Union is to develop and pursue its actions leading to the strengthening of the economic, social and territorial cohesion of the Union, in particular to reduce disparities between the levels of development of the various regions, through action specified in Article 175 TFEU;

Effectiveness and relevance of Cohesion Policy

- (3) WELCOMES the Commission's Ex-post evaluation of the 2007-2013 European Social Fund (ESF) Programmes<sup>1</sup>, which reinforces the findings provided by the "Ex-post evaluation of the European Regional Development Fund and Cohesion Fund 2007-2013"<sup>2</sup>, regarding the measurable economic and social impact of the Structural and Cohesion Funds, their contribution to mitigate the impact of the economic crisis and the effectiveness of programmes in helping millions of European citizens;
- (4) NOTES that, as set out in the above mentioned ex-post evaluations, there are tangible results which can make an important contribution to European integration and to increasing the visibility of Cohesion policy, such as
- a) 121 400 start-ups and an estimated number of 400 000 SMEs were financially supported, and 1 million jobs were created;
  - b) 94 955 research projects and 33 556 cooperation projects between SMEs and research centres were supported, and 41 600 new long-term research related jobs were created;
  - c) 4 900 km of roads, mostly motorways, including 2 400 km of TEN-T networks were constructed, and 1 500 km of TEN-T railway were upgraded;
  - d) 6 million people were connected to new or improved drinking water networks and 7 million people to new or upgraded wastewater treatment facilities;
  - e) 49.7 million participations were registered in human capital interventions, of which at least 46% have been recorded for the achievement of qualifications (13%), employment (8%), and enhanced skills or competencies, or other positive results (25%);

- (5) WELCOMES the first Commission Summary Report on the Annual Implementation Reports of Member States for the period 2014-2015<sup>1</sup>, and ACKNOWLEDGES the efforts made by Member States to reinforce, during the start-up phase of the 2014-2020 ESI Funds, strategies and mechanisms capable of delivering effective investment, as well as the first implementation progress reported;
- (6) CONSIDERS that through the measures, introduced in the 2014-2020 legislative framework linking the programming of ESI Funds to sound economic governance, and relevant country-specific recommendations within the context of the European Semester, Cohesion Policy and the ESI Funds have contributed to support structural reforms;
- (7) REITERATES that while the fulfilment of ex-ante conditionalities sometimes requires significant time and resources to implement legislative changes or complex reforms, they have a positive effect on the overall investment environment, the strengthening of administrative capacity and good governance in many Member States;
- (8) CONSIDERS that Cohesion Policy and the ESI Funds have a proven positive economic, social and territorial impact as they involve Member States and regions towards strengthening European integration by responding to the concerns of EU citizens and increase their trust in the EU through solutions best tailored to their needs;

Communicating Cohesion Policy to EU citizens

- (9) ACKNOWLEDGES that Cohesion Policy is a key EU policy supporting investments for growth and creating jobs with its unique multilevel governance and implementation mode together with the strong involvement of local, regional and national actors, and is an important tool which contributes towards bringing the EU closer to the citizens, allowing them to directly experience the results and added value of the European project;
- (10) RECOGNISES that Cohesion Policy reinforces the European project as it directly serves EU citizens and mobilizes them to communicate, cooperate and take up joint initiatives, and supports the convergence between Member States and regions; CONSIDERS that by strengthening economic, social and territorial cohesion, Cohesion Policy is a strong expression of solidarity;

- (11) NOTES that Cohesion Policy and the ESI Funds are implemented across the Union and support projects which are tangible and visible on the ground, therefore possessing significant potential to affect perceptions of the EU by EU citizens; CONSIDERS that such potential should be better harnessed for raising awareness on the positive impact that the European Union can have on the everyday life of EU citizens;
- (12) RECOGNISES that further efforts are required by Member States and the Commission to increase the visibility and the positive image of Cohesion Policy and the ESI Funds, and to show that they represent a tangible and beneficial manifestation of the EU in the daily life of European citizens by providing them with better living and working conditions as well as better opportunities for the development of skills. In this context, and in order to further increase the visibility of the policy, both towards EU citizens and political decision-makers, INVITES:
- a) Member States to communicate the advantages Europe offers to citizens;
  - b) the Commission and Member States, including their managing authorities, to enhance cooperation on their communication strategies on Cohesion Policy and the ESI Funds where appropriate and respecting the principle of proportionality; in this context, LOOKS FORWARD to the upcoming Commission action plan on communication;
  - c) the Commission to outline and disseminate good practice on communication measures which can best illustrate the positive contribution made by Cohesion Policy and the ESI Funds, in particular towards improving the life of European citizens on the ground;
  - d) beneficiaries and authorities of the Member States to communicate widely and in a systematic way the results, benefits and long term impact of the policy;
  - e) all stakeholders to make the best use of available communication tools, including new communication techniques, to increase the visibility of the policy in a way adapted to the needs of relevant target groups;

Further Simplification of Cohesion Policy post 2020

- (13) UNDERLINES that simplification efforts should not only target beneficiaries, but also the bodies responsible for managing and implementing the Policy;

- (14) STRESSES that simplification efforts should aim at reducing costs of administration, where they are disproportionate, and that therefore a better application of proportionality and, as an option, the introduction of differentiation into the implementation of ESI Funds programmes, based on transparent and objective criteria, should be carefully explored for post 2020 without prejudice to future decisions;
- (15) RECOGNISES that good governance is an important element in the implementation and monitoring of Cohesion Policy and the ESI Funds;
- (16) EMPHASIZES the need for further simplification of the policy post 2020, inter alia regarding the shared management and audit systems, thereby ensuring a better ownership and responsibility for the policy implementation among stakeholders; in this respect, it is crucial to find the right balance between the result orientation of the policy and the level of checks and controls as well as simplification of procedures, including for the audit process, which should be proportional, preventive and predictable whilst taking into account the outcomes of national control and audit authorities;

A forward looking policy that addresses future challenges

- (17) RECALLS the importance of Cohesion Policy for achieving the aims set out in Art. 174 of the TFEU beyond 2020;
- (18) EMPHASIZES that Cohesion Policy post-2020 must therefore be a proactive, forward looking policy, which is sufficiently flexible to address new challenges and facilitate the development of innovative solutions throughout the EU, while continuing to provide a stable and predictable investment and cooperation framework to reduce the disparities between the levels of development of the various regions;
- (19) UNDERLINES that in order to achieve the desired impact and added value of Cohesion Policy, a 'one size fits all' approach is not optimal; the policy, its delivery mechanism, legal framework and interpretations need to take account of different social, territorial and economic realities to address the specific situations on the ground;
- (20) LOOKS FORWARD to the 7th Cohesion Forum, which will be organised by the Commission on 26-27 June 2017, and the Seventh Report on economic, social and territorial cohesion, to be issued by the Commission in Autumn 2017;

- (21) INVITES the Commission to seek the policy dialogue with Member States in the preparatory process for the post 2020 period, building on existing structures, and REITERATES its call on the Commission to submit its proposals for Cohesion Policy post-2020 as soon as possible in 2018, with a view to allowing a timely agreement between the co-legislators and an early start of the programming process;
- (22) REMAINS COMMITTED to a regular political debate among relevant ministers in the General Affairs Council to discuss Cohesion Policy and the ESI Funds."

  - a) to maintain a strong political commitment together with a high sense of ownership for the implementation of their macro-regional strategies;

- (13) NOTES that the Commission intends to submit to the Council, in the course of this year, reports on Border Obstacles and on activities under the Urban Agenda for the EU, and LOOKS FORWARD to examine these reports, also against the background that their findings might help to improve the implementation of macro-regional strategies;

- (18) NOTES the need for more detailed, reliable and comparable data regarding the implementation of macro-regional strategies, and CALLS on the Commission to gather such data, taking into account the related administrative burden for stakeholders and making the best possible use of existing data sources and technical assistance means, and provide these data to the Council;

OTHER ITEMS APPROVED*FOREIGN AFFAIRS*Draft Council Conclusions on the European Court of Auditors' Special Report No 32/2016 on EU assistance to Ukraine

The Council adopted conclusions taking note of the conclusions and recommendations made by the European Court of Auditors in its Special Report on EU assistance to Ukraine. The special report was issued in December 2016, and it examines whether Commission and European External Action Service assistance was effective in supporting the transformation of Ukraine.

The Council approved the position of the EU for the EU-Tajikistan Cooperation Council taking place in Brussels on 15 May. In the Cooperation Council the EU and Tajikistan will take stock of progress made since the fifth Cooperation Council in February 2016, discuss the political, economic and socio-economic developments in Tajikistan and review the key aspects of the implementation of the EU-Central Asia Strategy.

The EU welcomes the progress made in cooperation under the EU's Central Asia Strategy and Tajikistan's close cooperation with the EU and other international actors in the reform process. Ministerial Declaration of the Union for the Mediterranean (UfM) Water Ministers on the UFM Water Agenda

The Council adopted EU's position for the Union for the Mediterranean (UfM) Ministerial Meeting. The meeting will take place in Valetta on 27 April 2017, and it aims to enhance regional cooperation towards sustainable and integrated water management in the UfM region.

The Council recalls that being a limited natural resource, water requires policies and regulations to ensure availability, quality and sustainable management. The impact of climate change increases pressures on existing water resources, in particular in the Mediterranean region. The EU is committed to implement the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development which provides a framework for action towards sustainability, including on water and inter-linked sectors.

Sanctions against Myanmar/Burma

The Council renewed the restrictive measures against Myanmar/Burma until 30 April 2018. The sanctions were initially introduced by the Council in 1996 with a view to promoting progress towards democratisation. In 2013 the Council reviewed the restrictive measures against Burma/Myanmar with a view to encouraging continued positive developments. The sanctions are currently limited to a prohibition on the export of weapons and related material (arms embargo).

The decision will apply from 1 July 2017 to 30 June 2020.

The Neum corridor is where the territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina reaches the Adriatic coast, thus separating the area of Dubrovnik from the rest of Croatia.

AGRICULTURE

Catalogue of feed materials

The Council decided not to oppose the adoption of a Commission amendment to regulation 68/2013<sup>1</sup> on the catalogue of feed materials, which can be used by the feed business operators on a voluntary basis (6913/17 + ADD 1).

TRANSPORT

Repeal of three obsolete regulations in the field of transport

The Council adopted a regulation which repeals three regulations identified as being obsolete (8025/1/17 REV 1). The three regulations cover arrangements for structural improvements in the inland waterway sector; distribution quotas for heavy goods vehicles which the EU received from Switzerland; and authorisations for access for member states to the haulage market in Bulgaria and Romania.

TRANSPORT AND JUSTICE AND HOME AFFAIRS

Carriage of hazardous and noxious substances by sea

The Council adopted two decisions authorising member states to ratify and accede to the Protocol of 2010 to the International Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea from 1996 ('1996 HNS Convention').

The aim of the protocol is to make it possible for compensation to be paid to victims of accidents involving hazardous and noxious substances, such as chemicals.

The protocol replaces the 1996 HNS Convention, which never came into force, owing to a lack of ratifications. As parts of the protocol fall under the EU's exclusive competence in the area of maritime transport, member states need to be authorised to be able to ratify or accede to it.

In addition, the protocol contains provisions that affect EU secondary legislation on jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters. Those matters are covered by a separate Council decision.

COMPETITION POLICY

EU-Japan cooperation agreement - opening of negotiations

The Council authorised the Commission to open negotiations on a cooperation agreement in the area of competition policy between the EU and Japan.

The future agreement will strengthen the existing cooperation agreement between the parties, which dates back to 2003, on anti-competitive activities.

INTERNAL MARKET

Construction products - thermal insulation products

The Council decided not to object to a Commission regulation on the classification of horizontal settlement and short-term water absorption performance for in-situ formed loose-fill cellulose thermal insulation products, pursuant to regulation 305/2011 laying down harmonised conditions for the marketing of construction products (6757/17 and 6757/17 ADD1).

The Commission regulation is a delegated act pursuant to article 290 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the EU. It can now enter into force, unless the European Parliament objects.

FOOD LAW

Health claims made on foods

The Council decided not to oppose the adoption of three Commission regulations refusing to authorise certain health claims made on foods (7671/17, 7683/17, 7690/17).

The Commission regulations are subject to the so-called regulatory procedure with scrutiny. This means that, now that the Council has given its consent, the Commission may adopt them, unless the European Parliament objects.

Authorisation of organic silicon in food supplements

The Council decided not to oppose the adoption of a Commission regulation authorising the use of organic silicon (monomethylsilanetriol) in the manufacture of food supplements (7686/17).

The Commission regulation is subject to the so-called regulatory procedure with scrutiny. This means that, now that the Council has given its consent, the Commission may adopt it, unless the European Parliament objects.

ENVIRONMENT

Mercury

The Council adopted a regulation which will provide a high level of protection for human health and the environment from emissions and releases of mercury and its compounds into the air, water and land (7782/17 + REV 1 + ADD 1).

The Council approved the European Parliament's position at first reading, as set out in PE-CONS 4/17. The new regulation will now be published in the Official Journal of the European Union, once both the President of the European Parliament and the Council have signed the act, and will enter into force 20 days after publication. The new rules provide greater legal clarity and transparency and will apply from 1 January 2018 replacing regulation (EC) No 1102/2008.

The regulation sets out provisions which will allow the Union and its member states to approve, ratify and implement the Minamata Convention on tackling mercury pollution globally and ensure that EU law is in line with the Convention.

Stockholm Convention on Persistent Organic Pollutants

The Council took a decision on the position to be adopted, on behalf of the EU, at the eighth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Stockholm Convention on Persistent Organic Pollutants with regard to the proposals for amendments to Annexes A, B and C. The meeting will take place in Geneva from 24 April to 5 May 2017.

The Stockholm Convention on Persistent Organic Pollutants was adopted in May 2001. The EU and its member states are parties to the Convention and the provisions of the Convention have been implemented in Union law by regulation (EC) 850/2004<sup>1</sup> of the European Parliament and of the Council on persistent organics pollutants.

EU Ecolabel

The Council decided not to oppose the adoption of a Commission decision amending Decision 2014/350/EU establishing the ecological criteria for the award of the EU Ecolabel for textile products (5932/17 + ADD 1).

The Commission decision is subject to the so-called regulatory procedure with scrutiny. This means that, now that the Council has given its consent, the Commission may adopt the decision, unless the European Parliament objects.

The EU Ecolabel helps consumers identify products and services that have a reduced environmental impact throughout their life cycle, from the extraction of raw material through to production, use and disposal. It is a voluntary label promoting environmental excellence.

Type-approval and real-driving emissions

The Council decided not to oppose the adoption of two new Commission regulations:

- introducing a number of corrections to directive 2007/46/EC, regulation 582/2011 and a regulation still to be adopted to ensure the right application of the type-approval measures on light- & heavy- duty motor vehicles. In so doing, it will comply with certain emissions limits and guarantee the access to repair and maintenance information (6214/17 + ADD 1).
- amending Commission regulation (EU) 2017/xxx and directive 2007/46/EC as regards to real-driving emissions from light passenger and commercial vehicles. New provisions are incorporated to the existing RDE test procedure to evaluate, measure and limit emissions from Nitrogen Oxide, particle number and those derived from cold start in those vehicles (6215/17 + ADD 1).

The Commission regulations are subject to the so-called regulatory procedure with scrutiny. This means that, now that the Council has given its consent, the Commission may adopt the regulations, unless the European Parliament objects.

Eco-management in the food and beverage manufacturing sector

The Council decided not to oppose the adoption of a Commission decision concerning the EU's eco-management and audit scheme (EMAS) organisations in the food and beverage manufacturing sector (6223/17 + ADD 1). The decision refers to the sectoral reference document indicating the best environmental management practice, sector environmental performance indicators and benchmarks of excellence for this sector under regulation (EC) No 1221/2009.

This Commission decision is subject to the so-called regulatory procedure with scrutiny. This means that, now that the Council has given its consent, the Commission may adopt the decision, unless the European Parliament objects.

Organisations in and outside the EU are encouraged to participate on a voluntary basis to the EU's eco-management and audit scheme. Those registered are required to complete and take into account sectoral reference documents when developing their environmental management system and when assessing their environmental performance in the environmental statement.

Exemptions for lead and cadmium in specific applications and standards

The Council decided not to object to Commission delegated directives amending Annex III to Directive 2011/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council as regards exemptions for:

- lead in white glasses used for optical applications (7415/17 + ADD 1);
- cadmium and lead in filter glasses and glasses used for reflectance standards (7316/17 + ADD 1);
- lead in bearing shells and bushes for refrigerant-containing hermetic scroll compressors with a stated electrical power input equal or below 9 kW for heating, ventilation, air conditioning and refrigeration (HVACR) applications (7317/17 + ADD 1).

Directive 2011/65/EU (RoHS 2) restricts the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment. These exemptions have been granted to lead and cadmium in these specific applications and standards for the purpose of adapting to scientific and technical progress and ensuring legal certainty and sustainable market conditions for manufacturers.

These directives are delegated acts pursuant to article 290 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the EU. Those can enter into force now, unless the European Parliament objects.

TRANSPARENCY

Public access to documents

On 7 April 2017, the Council adopted the reply to confirmatory application No 04/c/01/17 (6722/1/17 REV 1) by written procedure.
