

Léon Kamenický

For over five years, Léon Kamenický, MSc has been involved in controlling and evaluating the impacts of EU funds and other support mechanisms on regional development. He is currently a third-year PhD student at the Department of Social Geography and Regional Development, Faculty of Science, Charles University. A significant part of his research consists of a project funded by the Operational Programme Technical Assistance, which also serves as the basis for this presentation. He is also partially active at the consulting firm Gatum Group, where he focuses on strategic advisory services for the public sector, including evaluations.

Co-funded by the European Union

MINISTRY OF REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT CZ

EVALUATION
UNIT NCA