

Mariana Pereira-Lopez

Mariana Pereira-Lopez is a Senior Economist in the Economics and Market Research Department at the International Finance Corporation (IFC). Her research focuses on firm-level productivity, management practices, technologies, innovation, entrepreneurship, impact evaluations, competition, and energy efficiency. Her work has been published in peer-reviewed journals such as the Journal of Development Economics, World Bank Economic Review, Journal of Environmental Economics and Management, Research Policy, and Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences (PNAS). With over sixteen years of experience spanning roles in the Mexican government, academia, and the World Bank, she holds a Ph.D. and M.A. in Economics from El Colegio de México.

Co-funded by the European Union

MINISTRY OF REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT CZ

EVALUATION
UNIT NCA