

Martin Dytrych

Since 2017, Martin Dytrych has been leading the Evaluation Department at the Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs, responsible for evaluating projects and calls under the Operational Programme Employment+. A significant portion of the department's evaluation outputs is carried out internally. Together with colleagues, He is working on the development of the ESF+ information system, which connects data on supported individuals from projects with data from the OK system and the Czech Social Security Administration (ČSSZ) database. He has been actively working to facilitate the sharing of administrative data within public administration and to improve its availability for research purposes.
